This list contains the most commonly billed insurance carriers, which is subject to change and not all-inclusive. If you have questions regarding a specific insurance carrier, please contact your local representative. Ask for in-network participation specifically by referring to Pathology Associates Medical Laboratories (PAML) and the list of PACLAB facilities listed above for your PACLAB laboratory testing. PACLAB will file claims for Medicare, Medicaid and many insurance companies or employee benefit plans. It is always important to verify coverage policies with your health plan for any particular network or service limitations.
